February 2024

Trailside Point Families,

I hope this letter finds you well. As we step into the month of February, we celebrate Black History Month. This month provides us with an opportunity to honor and recognize the invaluable contributions of African Americans throughout history. Our focus is not only on the past but also on the present and future as we celebrate diversity, unity, and the achievements of influential black historical figures. Throughout the month, our students will engage in various activities and lessons that highlight the rich essence of Black history. We aim to foster an environment where students can learn, appreciate, and celebrate the diversity that makes our community vibrant.

Now, let's take a moment to reflect on a few Black historical individuals whose impact on our world has been profound:

- Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.: A leader in the American civil rights movement, Dr. King is celebrated for his tireless efforts in advocating for racial equality through nonviolent civil disobedience.
- Maya Angelou: An acclaimed poet, author, and civil rights activist, Maya Angelou's words have inspired and empowered generations.
- Katherine Johnson: A brilliant mathematician, Johnson played a crucial role in NASA's early space missions, breaking barriers for women and African Americans in the field of science.
- Barack Obama: The first African American President of the United States, Obama's presidency marked a historic moment in our nation's history.

We encourage you to join us in celebrating Black History Month by engaging in conversations with your children about the importance of diversity, equality, and the contributions of Black individuals throughout history. Thank you for your continued support in creating an inclusive and enriching learning environment.

Smiles,

Ashley Grant
